Data Viewing Rules and Procedures

Data viewing sessions will be available at TGS's offices in Houston and London. The data available will be supplied by TGS, BGP, CGG, ION and Spectrum.

Data viewing will be held in the presence of TGS personnel.

Visits to the data viewing sessions are by prior appointment only. To make the appointment, Companies are required to give the full name of the Company, address, contact details and the names of the Company representatives attending. Any changes must be notified to OMNIS and to TGS in advance via email.

Email notifications must be sent to: info@madagascarlicensinground2018.com.

Prior to entering the data viewing sessions, Company representatives will be required to sign a declaration of acceptance to abide by the "Data Viewing Rules and Procedures" and a Confidentiality Agreement.

Companies will have to specify, when requesting a data viewing, whether they wish to see seismic only or all the Data Package content.

A maximum of four (4) persons per Company may enter the data viewing per visit at any one time. Data viewing duration should normally not exceed two (2) consecutive days.

Users should be aware that the data presented in these sessions is for evaluation purposes only and is subject to the following conditions:

- TGS personnel will oversee the data viewing session and will operate the mouse. Users will have the opportunity to ask TGS personnel what they wish to see. No seismic, well or report data may be photographed, videoed, exported or removed from the workstations using any device which allows the recording and storage of digital information
- Users will be authorised to have writing tools and paper to take notes. For any data shown in printed form, notes may be taken, however NO document, other than your notes, can be physically taken away from the room
- Up to five (5) screen shots per data viewing will be allowed; these will then need to be approved before release to the Companies

Data Rooms are also available: An extensive Data Room with Interpretation workstation, where the clients will have the opportunity to navigate themselves with the mouse, may also be arranged directly with the Company owning the data (either TGS/BGP, CGG, ION or Spectrum, depending on the survey of interest). Each Data Room would focus only on the Data owned by the Company hosting the Data Room. Further details on the terms and Conditions for each Data Room can be provided by the Company hosting the Data Room upon request.

Cost for visiting the data viewing are as follows:

- Houston: US $5,000 (Five Thousand US Dollars) per day
- London: US $5,000 (Five Thousand US Dollars) per day

On the day of viewing and prior to access, all the representatives attending will be asked to sign here to acknowledge that they have understood and accepted the terms of their access:
